Instructions for attaching your gogo Kidz Travelmate to your car seat.

NOTE: The Quick Release Strap is pre-assembled onto the plate of the gogo Kidz Travelmate for use with most car seats. However, you may need to make adjustments in the length of the strap or the vertical position of the strap on the gogo Kidz plate. (to fit your particular car seat, see quick release strap adjustments on next page)

1. Place car seat face down on floor (after the first time you attach and are familiar with the product, you may also attach the gogo Kidz Travelmate to a car seat while in an upright position and with a child sitting in seat).
2. Locate the two ribs on each side of your car seat (figure A page 6)
3. Align the two support tabs at the bottom of the gogo Kidz plate with the bottom ribs (or the bottom of base). (figure B)
4. Lay the gogo Kidz plate flat on top of the back of car seat. (figure C)
5. Take the ladder strap (long side of the strap - already attached to the gogo Kidz plate) and insert through the same opening where you would put your car seat belt through in the forward position. (figure D)
6. Insert ladder strap into the buckle located on the opposite side of the gogo Kidz plate and use ratchet to tighten. Tighten securely, but DO NOT OVERTIGHTEN. (figure D)
7. Pick up your car seat and place in the upright position.
8. Test connection by releasing the handle into the upright position and pulling/pushing your seat around the room.
9. If your car seat has a tether strap, pull 10" of the strap out and pull through the handle and attach tether latch to plate handle, tighten strap to ensure the gogo Kidz Travelmate is secure (figure E) This is especially recommended for use with older children.

SPECIAL NOTES

Support Tabs Under Base vs Ribs: Some car seats do not have these two long ribs in the back. For these types of seats, the support tabs on the bottom of the gogo Kidz should be located underneath the base itself.

Reclining Seats: The seat recline angle may have to be adjusted in order to make room for the support tabs or the wheels to fit on some car seats.

Britax Seats: Do not place the support tabs underneath the base on Britax car seats. You must place tabs on the car seat under the ribs on Britax car seats.

Removable Base: If your car seat has a removable base, you may need to remove the base prior to attaching the gogo Kidz Travelmate.

Headrest Adjustment: You may be required to move the bar on the back of your car seat that adjusts the shoulder straps (if equipped) to allow the handle to sit properly.

Quick Release Strap Adjustments

Quick Release Strap Adjustments

NOTE: The Quick Release Strap on the gogo Kidz has been assembled in the most common position, to fit most car seats. Once the gogo Kidz Travelmate has been properly attached to a car seat, it should not move or slide around. Your car seat should easily roll freely once tilted back on the gogo Kids Travelmate wheels. If not, please adjust either the length of the strap for more tension or the position of the strap on the gogo Kidz Travelmate. The strap should be level with the forward facing car seat belt opening.

TO ADJUST TENSION: Slide the strap adjusting clip to the left or right to tighten or loosen the strap as needed.

TO ADJUST THE STRAP HEIGHT: Remove the metal brackets that attach the strap to the gogo Kidz Travelmate plate with a screwdriver. Reposition the bracket in holes running down the side of the gogo Kidz Travelmate plate.

NOTE: Make sure you position both metal brackets in the same hole on each side (ex: left side is third hole from the top and right side is third hole from the top).

Does the gogo Kidz® Travelmate fit down the aisle of an airplane? Can I leave it attached on an airplane? Any suggestions about the car seat and the airplanes?

Going Through Security

Some x-ray machines at the airport may be smaller and your car seat with the gogo Kidz Travelmate attached may not fit through the machine. We suggest asking the Security Personnel to "hand wand" your car seat with the gogo Kidz attached just like a stroller. Model QRKIDZ has quick release wheels so if needed you can remove the wheels to allow your car seat to fit through the smaller machines.

Airplane Aisles

The gogo Kidz is 16 ½ inches wide and fits down the aisle of most commercial airplanes. However, many car seats are wider and they may not fit down the aisle of the coach section. A practical approach is to have your child out of the seat and expect to carry the seat to your assigned seat, once you reach the coach section. The handle in the down, locked position on the gogo kidz makes this easier to do than carrying the car seat by itself.

Airplane Seats

There are dozens of car seat manufacturers with multiple models of car seats. THE GOGO KIDZ® TRAVELMATE HAS NOT BEEN TESTED IN COMBINATION WITH THE CAR SEATS IN ANY CRASH TESTING PROGRAM. We advise that you remove the gogo Kidz and either stow it in the overhead bin or "gate check it." Fortunately, the gogo Kidz is very easy to put on and take off.

NOTE: If you do choose to keep the gogo Kidz Travelmate attached to your car seat during flight, there have been reports of the aircraft seat belt buckle being stuck behind car seats, creating a removal problem at destination. You may wish to ask the flight attendant for a seat belt extender to eliminate the potential for this problem.

NOTE: As your child grows and you no longer use your car seat during flight, we recommend that you use the gogo Kidz Travelmate through the airport and gate check your car seat and gogo Kidz Travelmate.

Other Airplane Information

We are updating our web site, www.gogobabyz.com, to include information and links that offer some very good general information about traveling with children on airplanes, safety issues and other practical suggestions. We recommend you take the time to review this information.
